

WHAT DOES YOUR ENVIRONMENTALLY-FRIENDLY VEHICLE LOOK LIKE?

Take the cargo bike

You know the situation: You're walking down the street and suddenly there's a delivery truck blocking the sidewalk. Of course, stores and restaurants need their goods and packages to be delivered. But how can we avoid traffic jams and pollution in the city center? More and more stores and parcel services are switching to cargo bikes: They take up much less space, don't make noise and don't produce exhaust. With an electric motor, they can even handle heavy loads. That means packages up to a total weight of 150 kg are no problem. And the bikes are also very practical for families — they can easily fit up to four children. Let's go!
